CALIFORNIA WILD RICE PROGRAM
2016-2017 Assessment Set at $10.00 Per Harvested Acre

To All Producers of California Wild Rice:

Upon the recommendation of the California Wild Rice Advisory Board (Board), the California Department of Food and Agriculture (Department) has established an assessment rate for the California Wild Rice Program (Program) of $10.00 per harvested acre on all wild rice acreage harvested by producers during the Program's 2016-2017 fiscal year, being June 1, 2016 through May 31, 2017. The assessment rate is the same as last year.

As in past years, the assessment will be collected in two installments.

- Five dollars ($5.00) per harvested acre will be due on October 15, 2016.
- Five dollars ($5.00) per harvested acre will be due on February 15, 2017.

The Board will use the assessment funds to carry out promotion and research activities on behalf of the California wild rice industry.

You have received, or will receive in the near future, a producer acreage survey from the Board office. Each producer needs to complete the survey and return it to the Board. Based on the survey and other relevant information, the Board staff will develop a list of all California wild rice producers and their projected 2016-2017 harvested acreage. The Board will then send out assessment forms prior to the October 15th due date for the first installment of the 2016-2017 assessment.

Assessments on unharvested acres will not be collected. However, to avoid payment of assessments on unharvested acres, verification of non-harvested acres will be required by at least one of the Board members or alternate members in your District. Please contact the Board office for additional details regarding the procedure to verify unharvested acreage.
